Description

Reading to toddlers sets the foundation for later independent reading.

Before children can read independently, they need emergent literacy skills. These include having a large vocabulary of words and knowing how to use them, understanding that words are made up of smaller sounds, understanding that marks on a page represent letters and words and knowing the letters of the alphabet

This Hand-picked books package is a great gift to give for that next stage in helping children on the road to independent reading.

Each book is individually wrapped and will be posted on the first working day of each month for as long as your subscription lasts.*

Just fill in the questions about the little one that you're buying for, and we'll send them an appropriate, hand-picked book they'll love every month.
